

Adiana – A Woman’s Idea of Permanent Contraception

Adiana is a safe, simple and minimally invasive procedure for permanent contraception. It works by stimulating your body's own tissues to grow in and around tiny, soft implants that are placed inside the fallopian tubes. It uses no hormones or drugs and leaves nothing in the uterus that might limit future gynecological procedures. Adiana has a similar success rates to other types of tubal ligation and allows a quick recovery with 98% of patients back to normal activities within 2 days. To learn more about Adiana, visit www.adiana.com